AMUSEMENTS.

AMERICAN ACADEMY OF MUSIC -Madamo Adelaide Ristori will take her benefit at the hands of her Philadelphia friends to-morrow (Friday) evening. Macame R stori will appear as "Pis," in Ma rengo's beautiful Italian tragedy of Pia de Tolomei. a role in which she stands unrivalled.

PLOT OF THE FLAY.

Pia de Telomei is justiy reckoned one of the best dramatic works in the Italian lunguage. The argument of the piece may be broffly given as follows:—
An intersective strike is raging in lunguage, and "Count Rigaldo" the ruler of Stena and Maremma, is a leader of one party in the strike. At the opening of the play he leaves 'Fia," his wife, and a child at home, which he proceeds to the battle-fields. At departing, he places his wife, child, servants, property, and honor to the care of one "Hugo." a prisoner of state whom he has ransomed, and to whom he has exhibited great kindness. This generosity is answered by ingratitude of the basest kind; for "Hugo," on "Rina do's" departure for the seat of war, has the temerity to insuit, by gross proposals, the wife of his friend. She repulses the wretch, and he threatens her with rain, by insidious argument and schemes to incit the pealonsy of "Rinaldo." PLOT OF THE PLAY.

and be threatens her with run, by insidious arrument and schemes to incit the pealousy of "Rinaido." This terminates the first act.

Subsequently "Hugo" con rives to bring "Rinaido" where he may see "lin" holding a midnight interview, among the runs of the castle of the Tolomet, with a strange man, whom "Hugo," has employed to personate the long-absent brother of "Ha". The jea"ous husband is now confirmed in his suspicious of his wife's infide ity, and he threat insto visit his vengeance upon her, but restrains himself during the interview, in accordance with a proself during the interview, in accordance with a promise made to his deceitin friend. Still be decides to be avenged.

In the saud set "Rina'do" takes his wife to Maremma, a posulential and marshy castellated retreat, where he informs her of his suspicions, and tells her he will leave her to perish. There he charges her with penng faithless to him, and his jea only knows no bounds. Yet he refuses to state his honorable sword with the blood or one who could be gailty of dishonor. He takes his departure, and "Huro," the villam, appears upon the scene. To make his own revenge certain, he a tempts again to rum the wife or his benefactor, but, as in the well-known scane between "Rebekah" and "Bois Guilbert" in Sir Walter Scot, 's Ieanhoe, the villain is foiled in his devilish plans by 'Pia's' hurred flight to a window of the castle overlooking an abuss down into which she avers she will cast herself headlong if "Hugo" should dare to advance a step towards her "Hugo," by the new orable argument of this act of true. by the mexorable argument of this act of true by the nexotable argument of this act of true womaniv courage, is competed to acknowledge that femile virtue exists, and sits enditioned in the bosom of Pia. He is thus humbled and abashed, and a andons "Pia" to her solitary and terrible fate. The fourth act brings "Tolomei," the father of "Pia," to the house of her husband in search of her. In order to disabuse the mind of "Rinaldo" of his convictions of the infidelity of "Pia," he uses every proper argument and entreaty. "Hugo," stung with remotes, and having become a raying maniac, here appears, and in the course of raving maniac, here appears, and in the course of the scene, he is brought in latally wounded by his own hand, to make a confession of his crimes, before he cles. The fealty of "1" to her marriage yows is then re-established, and her tather, "Tolomei," and her husband depart for Maremma, where the presidential missman are already dong their the pestilential mismas are already doing their work of death upon the beau iful form of "Pia" Here, in larmony with the vigor of the pot, a scene of great power and pas i n is developed up to the exquisite point of is cu mination and the fate of "Pia _xcites the utmost p ty—the highest purposes of tragedy, the man festation of terror and pity, because here accomplished. having been accomplished.

For Additional Local Items see Third Page. THE EIGHTH STREET LUTHERAN BURLAL GROUND-MORE ABOUT THE DIFFICULTY-SECOND MEETING OF THE OPPOSITION,—Since our fast article relating to the controversy toen existing between the two parties of the German Lutheran Church, arising from differences of opinions and views in relation to the disposal of the Eighth street cemetery, many more facts and circumstances have been brought to light as to the movements of both. We then stated some of the reasons which in uced the Church Council to apply to the courts and the Legislature for the privilege of sale, and which were mainly the de-ire, on their part, to raise funds for the extension of their sect over a more comprehensive territory—thus giving it stronger foundation and a larger field of ope rations, since then we have ascertained that there is a standing incumbrance of about $50,000 on the church property, its redemption being another reason offered for the sale of the burial ground. To offset all these arguments of the Church Council, the parties in opposition bring many and strong reasons to bear upon the nonisposal of the ground and the disinterment of he remains of their friends and relatives. In relation to the matter of funds with which to redeem the standing church debt, it is stated that the trustees receive a yearly income of over $10,000 from real estate, and also a large amount from pew rents, not counted. Tars amount, it is stated, if put to economical use, would redeem the church debt within ten years, thus making unnecessary the sale of any property for such purpose.

The theory upon which the action of the Church Council is based is, that by a clause in the charter, when two-thirds of the congregaion agree to the disposal of a certain piece o property, it has the power so to do. Second That the common law of England controls all laws where the English language prevails as a national language. And third, That the Eng-lish courts have decided that all matters ap-pertaining to burial grounds, and church proerty generally, shall be referred to an eccle-astical court, which invariably sustains the desire of a majority of the congregation as the desire of the church uself. But this latter theory has been overruled by the higher court of New York State, which affirmed that blood relatives have an undeniable right to the relieand graves where are taid the bodies of deceased members of the family. The title of that plot of ground is eternal with the heirs, and cannot be revoked. This has been the decision of the Superior Court of New York, and the principle holds good in the courts of all the

The Church Council do not desire the selling of the whole property, but only about one hundred and twenty-five leet, or one section (a marter of the whole) from the south end. Bu the selling of a section is met by the same oppo tion of the other party as the selling of the complete ground. If the opposing party concede the right to sell a part, they concede the right of the disposal of the whole. The party in minority, being the party in opposition, have taken vigorous measures against the movement Examinations have been had before the prope appointed officer, in waich evidence has been adduced bearing strongly upon the reasons as to why the measure is resisted.

It has been ascertained that a portion of the church burial records have been lost, contain-ing the descriptions of the exact places, and where to be found, of those baried in the Lutheran Cemetery. Parties, therefore, who otherwise would coincide with the proposed removal, cannot now do so from mability to designate the bodies, and where laid, of them designate the bodies, and where laid, of their relatives. We stated in our last article on this subject, that if the removashould take place the bodies would be rightly interred in a ground opposite Laurel Hill Cemetery. It has been given in evidence, and is the gist of one of the principal reasons of opposition, that the bodies, on account of the extreme smallness of the ground proposed to be used, cannot be desently interred, but will nave to be placed in trenches.

In this same examination certificates were produced by persons who had paid in sums varying from twenty to thirty-five dollars for the privilege of interment, thus becoming virtually the owners of the land used as graves. Others had written agreements to raise monuments over the last resting-places of their deceased relatives. This ground is sacredly held in nemory by those living whose parents brothers, sisters, and friends have long rested beneath its turf. The case for the opposition has been placed in the hands of emmen counsel. An adjourned meeting was held by those who proposed the measure, in the City Assembly Rooms. The attendance was fair, a large num-per of ladies being present. Notice was given that an examination was to held this (Thursday) atternoon at 3 o'clock, by the same examiner, at the Wetherill House, Sausom street, above Sixth. An addition of ive ladies and gentlemen each was made to the Finance Committeee. A motion that an dvertisement should be inserted in three principal daily journals, giving the place of ness of the Treasurer, Henry Grambo, No. 432 Chesnut street, with Moss & Co., was carried. The meeting adjourned, to be called at the discretion of the officers.

HOLIDAY APPLIANCES - SUBSTANTIAL Christmas Delicacies.—The grand feature of the Christmas festivities is the Christmas table, and to supply this properly with the requisite delicacies is a task of no little difficulty. By dropping in at the old-established grocer of W. L. Maddock & Co., at No. 115 S. Third street, below Clesnut, the purchaser, no wever, will find a great relief from the difficulties whic may attend his peculiar situation. If he does not know precisely what he wants, his lack of knowledge will soon be supplied.

And it he does know what he wants, behold the assortment from which he is enabled to make his selections! In the way of fruits, he will find raisins, currants, figs, citrons, dates, English and American pickles, and English, Indian, and American sauces; and he will discover an assortment of French and Spanish sardines, jeilies, preserves, paper-shelled almonds. and every variety of preserved vegetables.

The canned fruits and vegetables, in parti cular, have been "done up" in the most ad-mitable style. The fresh peaches are espe-cially noticeable for the richness of their flavor, while quinces, peas, corr. Lima beans, and succetash—that delectable compound of the wo-are not a whit behind them.

And then, in the way of enceses, just read the list:—Stilton, Cheddar, Edam, Neutchatel, Young America, Jenny Lind, sago, pine-apple, and—we tire of the enumeration. As an offset to these we find French and Spanish olives, mustards, capers, petits-pois, champignons trufes, pates-de foics gras, Besides all these there is a tempting display of potted meats, including ham, beef, tongue Strasbourg anchovy, partridge, liver, shrimp Yarmouth herring, and bloaters. But all thes would present a temptation to thirst alone were t not for the innumerable bottles of Kupfe berg's renowned sparkling Rhine wines, and the brandles and wines, of perfect purity, prepared for medicinal and family uses, some of them being of very old date and of equal rarity.

And now will any one, whether epicure or otherwise, say that in all this rich and varied stock he can find nothing that will suit his own palate, and make glad the heart of his wife?

In Gallicia, some of the regiments detailed for the service are already under marching orders.

The official Vienna journal in denying these statements, asserts that the relations of Prossia and Austria are mos satisfactory, and nothing whatever has taken place calculated to disturb them in any way. any way.

It seems perfectly clear that the trouble confiness in Canada, but the advices are as conflicting as ever. There had been a report that Ru sia had invited England and France to come to an understanding in the matter, but there is a lock of confirmation.

The Pall Mail Gazette gives a report that France had addressed a very to remainly note to the Gazette gives a report that France had addressed a very to remainly note to the Gazette. had addressed a very peremptory note to the Greek Government, requesting it to put a stop to the machinations of its agents in the East, especially in Crete.

CONCRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

WASHINGTON, December 20. Senate.

Mr. Wilson (Mass.) offered a joint resolution directing the President of the United States to instruct the officers of the Army and Navy and of the Freedman's Bureau to prevent and prohibit the infliction of corporeal punishment for crimes and misdemeanors in the late rebellious States until taur civil governments shall have been recognized and ratified by Congress. Ordered to be printed.

Mr. Cattell (N. J.) presented the petuion of the carpet manufacturers for re ief from the five per cent. internal revenue tax. Referred to Finance

Mr. Anthony (R I), from the Printing Commitee, reported a resolu ion to print the annual report of the Librarian of Congress Adopted.

Mr. Ross (Kansas) called up the resolutions on reconstruction, offered by him yesterday and printed in yesterday's report, and delivered a steechin advocacy of the right of Congress to establish government in the Rebellious States.

Mr. Henderson offerred a re olution, based on a dispatch from Governor Fletcher, of Missouri, calling upon the President for information as to whether he had, since the lat of December, sent troops into the into for of Missouri for any purpose, and it so, to indicate his reasons, etc. The resolution was adopted. The bill to admit Nebraska was taken up,

House of Representatives. Mr. Spaulding (Ohio) arose to a personal privilege in connection with an article in yesterday's Chronicle reflecting upon a resolution offered by him on the 9th instant, and referred to the Committee on Reconstruction I hat resolution simply directed the Committee to inquire into the propriety of proposing a joint resolution declaratory of the purpose of Congress in the reception of Senators and Representatives from revellions States respec-tively, on the ratification by them of the Constitu-tional amendment and the establishment of a republicen form of government.

He declared his adherence to the Constitutional amendment in a lits parts, and advised its adoption as a measure of conclusion and security. In his judgment, if the amendment was ratified by threc-jourths of the States represented in Congress, it could become a part of the Constitution. He did not believe that the approval of disapproval of the amendment by the outstanding communities, or any or them, would affect the ratification of the amendment in the slightest degree.

It might become necessary ere long to place those revolted States in the condition of ferritories. If that became apparent, he should not flinch from the work, though he wou'd fain save the country from so great a stain upon its institutions or Govern-

Mr. Stevens (Pa.), at a subsequent stage of the proceedings, said he had intended, perhaps irregu-iarly, to say a word in reference to the position of Mr. Spaulding. He would only say now that he thought the argument of the editor altogether the better of the two, and perfectly conclusive. White he would not charge the gentleman (Mr. Spaulding with being the author of the resolution, he thought the doctrine implied in it was the most permicious that could possibly be brought to obstruc-be final free reconstruction of the Government, but ne would not go into the argument now, as endeman (Mr. Spaulding) was not in his seat. had only thought it proper to say so much in fevor of the argument of one who could not appear here to make it, and which he deemed conclusive, and entirely more satisfactory than that of the gentleman from Ohio

Admission of Nebraska. It is doubtfut if Senator Wade will succeed in getting a vote upon the admission of Nebraska to-day. It will pass the Senate by a small majority, The New York Bank Tax.

The New York Bank tax cases, involving the question of the taxation of the shares of National banks, when any portion of the capital is invested in Government securities exempt from taxation, is being argued in the Supreme Court. Inc counsel, Messrs. John E. Barrill and D. B. Sielman, in behalf of the United States Government, against the banks, are arguing the case to-day.

WASHINGTON, December 20.—The colored citizens of this district are holding private meetings to arrange for voting at the next municipal election, and to consider other matters in that connection. The Republican Association, at their regular meeting last night, passed a resolution declaring that, in its judgment, the organization of auxiliaries to this society, composed exclusive y of colored persons, is neither expedient as a matter of policy, nor consistent with our republican principles, which make no distinction of race or color.
